Adam Gaudette Named Hockey East Player of the Month

BC's Hutsko Claims Top Rookie; Primeau Wins Best Goaltender Title

Hockey East Player of the Month

Adam Gaudette - Northeastern

Junior Forward; Braintree, Massachusetts

In the month of February, Gaudette led the NCAA with 17 points (10 goals, 7 assists) and 2.12 points per game. As part of his month, he helped push Northeastern to a 6-1-1 record and its first Beanpot championship since 1988. Gaudette also became the conference's scoring champion, racking up 20 goals and 15 assists for 35 points in league play. He recorded multi-point nights in seven of the eight games he played, including four three-point efforts and a hat trick in the Beanpot title game.

Stop It Goaltending

Goaltender of the Month

Cayden Primeau - Northeastern

Goaltender; Voorhees, New Jersey

Primeau wrapped the month of February sitting third in the NCAA in save percentage (.961) and fourth in GAA (1.26), which were both numbers good enough to stand as the best in Hockey East. Leading Northeastern to a 6-1-1 record, the rookie netminder backboned the Huskies to their first Beanpot championship since 1988, making 75 saves across the two games. He made at least 30 saves in five of the eight games he started, including a career-high 38 in the Beanpot championship game. He also recorded two shutouts and held opponents to two goals or fewer in six games.

Runner-up: Matt Murray, UMass (St. Albert, Alta.)
